Happy Friday everyone,

Well...the sun was nice while it lasted:) It looks a little cooler and wetter next week.

Should we have a contest for who made their Thanksgiving leftovers last the longest?

We had some great trips to the Pumpkin Patch and the Curling rink and have more to come. Those are some very big pumpkins that I just watched come through the front door.

We also had a very successful 'Great Shakeout' earthquake drill this week. Way to go team!:)

Next week we have our Cross-Country runners going to Airport, Photo re-takes on Thursday and a Professional Development Day (No School) on Friday.

Just a reminder to some families that I have no ability to supervise students before 8:20am. We have had quite a few students showing up around 8:10. I understand that some of you need to get to work, it's just hard for me to know that the kids are out there unattended.

Thanks everyone!

Andrew
