

A close-up photograph of several white marshmallows. Two of the marshmallows are decorated with black and white googly eyes and small orange beads, giving them a monster-like appearance. They are surrounded by other plain white marshmallows.

Family Literacy Week - Jan 21-28

Family Literacy is a celebration of families learning together through daily activities. This year's theme is "Let's have a family party!" All the planning, preparing and playing at a party involves literacy. Find a fun way to party with your family and celebrate learning together! Use the daily prompts on the flyer to help get you started! Reading, writing, counting, singing, learning and joyful movement are all important literacies we do with our families. Prompts flyer attached to the email.

Sewing enthusiasts needed!

We are in need of more cloth napkins to accommodate our growing population . We use these napkins to help us with our sustainability goals! Please email Ms. Wilson if interested
