Updates....

Halloween is here!! And it was a big day at Brooklyn Elementary. We had a lovely parade, students were able to showcase their costumes and everyone's hard work. We did manage to stay dry during first recess, but we did get outside for our second recess and some may be a bit wet. A reminder to pack jackets, pants and boots for your kiddos. That being said, everyone's costumes should be in good condition for this evening.

As we move into November we have lots coming our way. We'll start with our Remembrance Day ceremony on Nov 10th, a book fair Nov 17-20th, and don't forget our parent teacher (PT) conferences! For PT conferences we will be sharing more information next week.

Big thanks to all of those who are supporting the parking parameters out front, specifically the stop, drop and go zone - that is integral to fluidity.

Lost and Found

I worry these clothes are feeling sad and they desperately want to be found, lets help them get back to their family ☺
