The RR Weekly – October 6th – 10th

Dear Robb Road Families,

Here are a few items for your consideration:

1. Paper Doll Project – In recognition of Truth and Reconciliation, ERR students were engaged in age-appropriate learning and classroom conversation. From Mme Pauline, ERR's Indigenous Support Worker: I have gone to every classroom connecting, discussing residential schools, sharing stories of my family's experiences, building learning and understanding to the lands we live on. I listen and learn from students, who are amazingly, smart, and much more connected in these knowledges than I had at their age. We share and connect to the Rights of Children, making sure to leave our conversation in a positive, motivational spirit. I share age-appropriate knowledge taking the lead of the children. We complete the lesson by making a Paper Doll representing themselves and how they wish the school to see them. Come by to see the whole school's Paper Dolls on the bulletin board near the front office, ask your child if they can find themselves among the many faces. Students love looking and searching the board. Click here for image of completed project.

2. Parking – Another gentle reminder to avoid blocking driveways when parking around the school – especially on Sable Crescent where a frustrated neighbour is threatening to phone a tow truck.

3. Cross-Country Running – Cross-Country races resume this Wednesday @ Huband. Runners are invited to practice during morning recess Tuesdays and before school Fridays. Drivers/riders will be emailed Tuesday evening.
