Most of all, he loved his friends and family. Alex was known for his generosity, loyalty, good humour and the way he made people feel better. He looked for the good in others and respected himself and others. In a Grade 11 psychology assignment he wrote: "I always look out for my friends and they can count on me". CHARLIE PETRIE

Charlie had a true zest for life. He wanted to do great things and experience everything that held a thrill, yet he also knew his limitations and so always exercised a healthy balance between caution and courage. At the same time, Charlie did not let others' opinions nor his own personal obstacles prevent him from pursuing what he wanted out of life. He sought after goals/dreams that were unique to him, and he did so with both confidence and humility. Charlie was also a very compassionate person, especially toward animals (from the furry to the scaly), but also toward any person who he saw might be struggling in life. He exuded enthusiasm and playfulness, and made those around him smile. Because of this he had many friends, some very close and very important to him. Despite its all too short duration, the life he lived was full and happy, and he will never be forgotten by those who knew him.

With Charlie's character in mind, I envision the student receiving this bursary to exhibit similar traits, fulfilling the following criteria:

- is pursuing a career/path for which they carry a passion for.

PEARL ELLIS GALLERY BURSARY

Established in 1977, the Pearl Ellis Gallery of Fine Arts (PEG) in Comox is non-profit, volunteer-run society with a mandate to showcase and support local artists.

In an effort to assist in the development of students with ambitions for a career in visual arts, the Gallery will provide $1,000 bursary to two grade 12 students in the valley.

Interested School District 71 students should submit a completed High School Bursary program application, along with a copy of the application to the post-secondary program of their choice and photographs of their work to the PEG Board by April 2, 2023.

Upon confirmed acceptance in the Bursary program, the funds will be released to the student(s). Additionally, the funds can be held for one year, if a 'gap year' is required.

AMOUNT: 2 x $1,000

Criteria for recipients can be found on the Pearl Ellis Gallery website at www.pearlellisgallery.com

PENINSULA CO-OP STUDENT AWARDS PROGRAM

Peninsula Co-op is proud to support the students in our community with post-secondary scholarship opportunities. For the last 30 years we have been supporting local students through our Student Awards Program. As our company has grown over the years, we have continuously added to our Program which this year alone will award 21 scholarships, combining for a total of $22,000.

Students should apply directly to the University of Victoria, Camosun College, Vancouver Island University, North Island College and Royal Roads University. We have made scholarships specific to these establishments because they are in our trading area.

The Peninsula Co-op Educational Scholarships provide opportunities to students pursuing post-secondary education off Vancouver Island. This was done to improve the quality of opportunities available to our members and their families.
