White hatter- Amanda Z./Alissa (email update)

For a technology update, you could tell the group that I reached out to The White Hatter. I was asking for parent resources about protecting children's privacy while online, which includes at school. They didn't have exactly what I was looking for, but they do have a professional development session available for teachers on digital/online privacy under BC's Freedom of Information and Privacy Act (FIPPA). Maybe something to consider for the future?
