

Connecting

This BLM from Adrienne Gear can be used when reading picture books or novels.

The BLM master was created to be open-ended so that students could draw or write their responses. To do an anticipation guide, students simply read the statement and guess whether or not they feel it is true or false. They can indicate in the appropriate column by writing T or F or just putting a check mark in a column. Students can do this on their own, with a partner or discuss in groups.

Give it a try. If it works for your students, please consider repeating this strategy before reading other non-fiction text. On second thought, it could even work for fiction!

Name: _____

Let's Connect!

Use words, pictures or symbols to record your thinking

In the story...

This reminds me of

Let's Connect !

Name: _____

