Responding to rejection, articulating boundaries, respecting bodily autonomy and active listening are valuable life skills. This week is a significant opportunity to reflect, champion, and celebrate consent as a cornerstone of all relationships, not just intimate ones. We invite you to get the facts and educate yourself and your peers. Join us in the front foyer to learn more & create a safer place for all.

Teachers, please share this presentation with your TA throughout the week – all at once or a couple slides a day, whatever works best for you! POWER POINT – CONSENT WEEK - 2023 .pptx (save the Kahoot for Thursday please).
