

A Collaborative Project of Vancouver Island Literacy Network

Designed and printed by printshop@sd71.bc.ca

Ladybugs

Image 2022 by Albeti Photography (2017) <https://www.shutterstock.com/photo-illustration-eps/1492255590> Attribution Non Commercial (http://creativecommons.org/licenses/by-nc/2.0/) Photo Attribution by Photos4Class.com

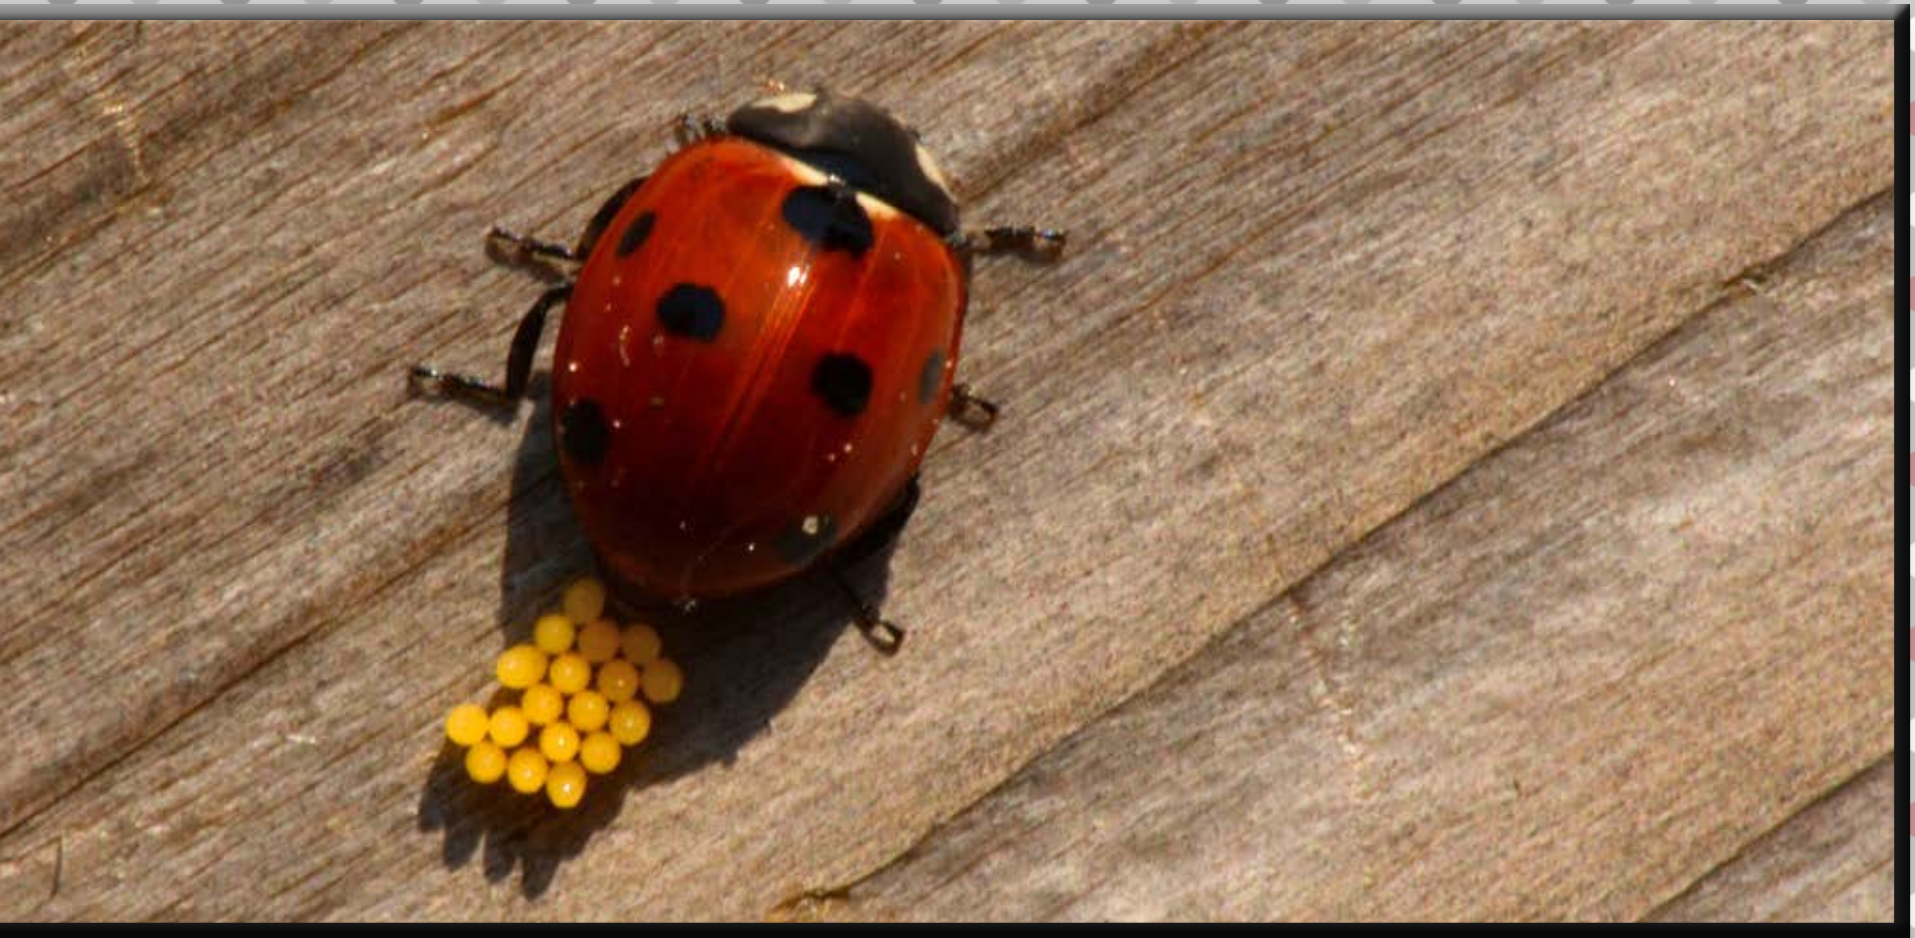

Bug by Kanaka Rastamon (2006) <https://www.flickr.com/photos/kanaka/163508609/>
Attribution, Non Commercial (<http://creativecommons.org/licenses/by-nc/2.0/>)
Photo Attribution by PhotosForClass.com

Ladybugs are beetles.
They have two hard wings and two soft wings.

Bug by Kanaka Rastamon (2006) <https://www.flickr.com/photos/kanaka/163508609/>
Attribution, Non Commercial (<http://creativecommons.org/licenses/by-nc/2.0/>)
Photo Attribution by PhotosForClass.com

Ladybugs hibernate together when it is cold.

Ladybugs lay bright yellow eggs

Little eggs by Rene Mensen (2014) <https://www.flickr.com/photos/reinemensen/13999038614/>
Attribution (<http://creativecommons.org/licenses/by/2.0/>)
Photo Attribution by PhotosForClass.com

Ladybird Larvae by gallhampshire (2011) https://www.flickr.com/photos/galls_pictures/6558782853/
Attribution (<http://creativecommons.org/licenses/by/2.0/>)
Photo Attribution by PhotosForClass.com

They come out of the eggs as larvae. They look like furry little caterpillars.

Nymphe de coccinelle asiatique (2014) <https://www.flickr.com/photos/34878947@N04/16121583206/>
Attribution, Non Commercial (<http://creativecommons.org/licenses/by-nc/2.0/>)
Photo Attribution by PhotosForClass.com Background dot pattern by freedesignfile.com

Next the larva becomes a pupa.

The pupa attaches itself to a leaf.

Verpuppter Marienkafer by blumenviene (2016) <https://www.flickr.com/photos/blumenviene/30824678562/>
Attribution (<http://creativecommons.org/licenses/by/2.0/>)
Photo Attribution by PhotosForClass.com

Ladybird, The Aphid Shepherdess by bob in swamp (2011) <https://www.flickr.com/photos/pondapple/5544614022/>
Attribution (<http://creativecommons.org/licenses/by/2.0/>)
Photo Attribution by PhotosForClass.com

Profusion of Lady Beetles by CaliforniaBFW (2011) <https://www.flickr.com/photos/californiadfg/23285739303/>
Attribution (<http://creativecommons.org/licenses/by/2.0/>)
Photo Attribution by PhotosForClass.com

Out of the pupa comes a ladybug.
Ladybugs eat aphids.

Ladybugs are amazing!