Definitions

Discrimination is unfair, unequal and differential treatment of individuals and/or groups often based in prejudice; in particular prejudice based on race, gender, class, religion, age, ability, sexual orientation or ethnicity. Discrimination can include overt differential treatment and create barriers to prevent access or opportunity such as through procedures and practices that exclude and/or limit people or groups.

Prejudice/Bias + Action = Discrimination.

Inclusion/Inclusive describes any effort to include people and value the diversity of their differences, so that they are able to participate as valued, respected and contributing members of society/community/organisation. In education, inclusion means all members of a school community (students, staff and parents) have equal access to the resources of their community and the opportunity to participate in all areas, regardless of their race, gender, social class, religion, sexual identity, sexual orientation or other dimension of diversity. An Inclusive organization will reflect their communities' diversity.

Systemic Discrimination occurs when the procedures and practices of the organization/community/society overtly or covertly prevent access, limit or exclude specific individuals and groups for full participation in the organization/community/society.
